

Clear to Lead - Executive Leadership

Leading The Future With Impact

The Challenge

- We continue to be faced by a complex and rapidly shifting world. We now need to develop a sustainable recovery strategy for future success
- We are all experiencing significant isolation from our colleagues and also blurred personal & professional boundaries (see for example Harvard Business Review, 2021)
- Our role as Executive Leaders is to help shape a new environment where we can all successfully adapt to achieve your shared goals

Why This Program Is For You?

- To support you to shape your professional and personal environments
- To help you get clarity & coherence with your deeper self
- To release your focus & energy to create the outcomes you seek

Key Outcomes

- Mindsets that help you envision the future and develop a clear sense of purpose
- Conscious understanding of blockers and actions
- Initiation of proactive change in your real world

Testimonials

"This program has really shifted the way I see things and my ability to focus my thoughts and actions"

Senior Partner, Global Consulting Firm

"I have started a process of seeing things differently after 20 years as a senior executive"

CEO, Major Australian Resources Company

"What I particularly enjoyed about the program was the collaborative space with such interesting people. I particularly loved ...exploring non-western thinking, perspectives and beliefs. It was a very rich program a safe, intimate and authentic space in which to learn, explore and grow."

Clear to Lead - Executive Leadership

Leading The Future With Impact

Our Evidence Based Approach

- We bring together the best of Eastern mindfulness together with Western intention and bias for action
- The stilling of your mind allows deeper thoughts, possibilities and intentions to emerge
- You then increase your focus and power, and create a plan of action with commitment and accountability
- Once you've completed the program you will be invited to join the Quantum Leaders Circle for collaboration with like-minded Executives

"Consciousness and Mindfulness is critical for perspective taking, and this mindfulness becomes an embedded way of practice that allows Quantum Leaders to reflect on the broader landscape and use their intuition to contemplate and deliver transformative and innovative solutions."

Professor Chris Laszlo, Co-author of "Quantum Leadership" Stanford Business Press, 2019
